Gary Bowling Art Exhibit

Lily Pad Shelter Oil on Canvas

The Le Mars Arts Center currently has an exhibit, "Passing Time," Sept. 14-Nov. 6, 2021, featuring the works of Gary Bowling and his wife, Linda.

Bowling was the art instructor and chairman of the Art Department at Westmar College in Le Mars for nine years.

In 1981, he took a sabbatical and had the good fortune to spend that fall at Yaddo, an artist's colony in Saratoga Springs, New York. Very few artists are accepted into Yaddo, which is renowned for recognizing young talent and helping to foster it.

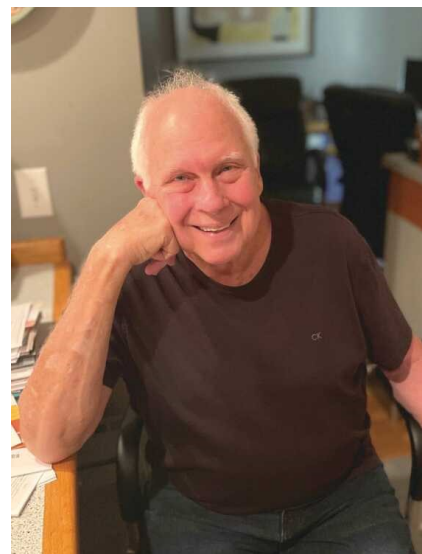

"My work there became more focused and it clarified my interests in landscape painting. I left Westmar and teaching for good in 1983 in order to concentrate on my painting full time," Bowling said.

On his website, Bowling said, "My artistic interests changed dramatically over the nine years I taught at Westmar. Possibly because I found myself spending so much time in a basement office, my paintings evolved into an exploration of light and atmosphere and ideas associated with the landscape.

I became particularly interested in the landscape as experienced from the highway, and features that suggested a demarcation between public and private space."

He said that it's the different places and environments, that's the thing that intrigues him, how something can feel so personal and vital to one person, but the same kind of thing, is personal and vital to other people who have the same kind of experience but with a different moment and place altogether.

Though collected internationally, Gary tends to focus on painting scenes in Missouri and Kansas, while also interpreting regions of New Mexico and France. But it is his scenes of the Midwest that have brought him the most acclaim, just as Monet's scenes of rural France did the same for him in the 19th Century. Gary works primarily in oils, and spends a great deal of time on each canvas. In fact some works can take several months to complete. He is considered a master of his medium, and after several decades of hard work he has indeed entered the golden period of his career.

Remember Westmar in Your Will

Many people choose to make their alma mater a beneficiary of their estate. Although Westmar is closed, it is still possible to support your college.

If your current will includes Westmar, please make sure it reads "Westmar University Alumni and Friends Association, 335 First Ave SW, Le Mars, IA 51031."

If you have not thought about a gift to Westmar, please do so. As a guideline, it should be worded "I leave $xxxx to Westmar University Alumni and Friends w 335 First Ave SW, Le Mars, IA 51031. This will ensure that your generosity will continue to support the alumni association.

WAFA is a 501(c)(3) and is considered a charitable organization.

Speak to your attorney about a gift to your college. Thank you.

Volunteers Needed!

The holiday season is fast approaching, but if you are considering what to do with any extra time you may have, consider volunteering for WAFA. An upcoming project is the Pioneer Village Christmas Wonderland at the Plymouth County Fairgrounds. A tree is provided (no live trees), but we need volunteers to decorate the Westmar tree on Wednesday, November 24th, Friday, November 26th, Saturday, November 27th, or Monday, November 29th from 9am-4pm.

The Pioneer Village Christmas Wonderland will be open during the weekends of Saturday and Sunday, December 4-5, 2021, and 11-12, 2021. Century Hall will be open for viewing the trees during the hours of 5:30-8:30pm.

Decorations need to be taken down either Sunday, December 12th after 8:30pm or Monday, December 13th from 9-4pm.

We have the Westmar decorations in storage here at the museum. We just need some volunteers to help decorate and tear down. We haven't had volunteers in quite a while. This would be a great opportunity to reconnect with Westmar Alum while getting into the Christmas spirit.

Please call Kristin at 546-8759 or email at wafa@westmarcollege.org as soon as possible. Registration is due November 15, 2021, so I need to know ASAP if there are people interested in representing Westmar. Thank you!!!

LAST CALL FOR PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEERS

Alumni News

After 42 years at Gehlen, Lorie Nussbaum '78 is ending her education career as TK-6 grade principal from the same place where she started her education as a first grade student. After graduating from high school from Le Mars Community Schools, she attended Westmar College .

She says, "My major was home economics education. I graduated from Westmar in 1978. During college, I commuted the first year and then married Gene in 1975. We lived in married housing at Westmar for the next three years as I completed by degree."

Her first job after graduating from Westmar was at Gehlen teaching Home Arts. She continued that for 19 years. Then she was encouraged to get an administration degree and eventually received an elementary/middle school administrative degree.

While she has thoroughly enjoyed the staff and students, Nussbaum said she is looking forward to a less hectic schedule. However, she will miss the people and the energy and excitement of the students. She plans to fill that time with more time with her children and grandchildren. Plus, she has eight siblings in the area.

Just because she's retiring doesn't mean she's cutting ties with Gehlen. "Gehlen Catholic, the entire Catholic faith community, Westmar College, and the community of Le Mars have been such gifts to me," she said.

Alumni News

'66—Richard Gist served in the Air Force Special Intelligence, spending a year studying Russian at the University of Syracuse. After he got out, Gist "felt the call of God," as he said. That call sent him to Westmar for his bachelor's degree. He then went on to seminary at the United Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio, for his master's in divinity.

Gist served as a minister until 1997. After that, he has written a few books as well. "Ayshus on the Inside" won a Global Ebook Award in children's literature in 2014. He also wrote "With a Yes and a Yippee" and "You Don't Understand the Bible Because You are Christian."

His most recently published book is a collection of his thoughts on the Bible and religious scholarship entitled "Faith without Fear: Scripture straight up, with spiritual nudges, common sense, and other good stuff (not for fundamentalists)". Gist hopes it will help assuage fears some might have regarding scholarly approaches to the Bible.

Interestingly, the book started as an angry response to a fundamentalist. "I got so angry with a fundamentalist that I had to go home and type out my anger on a keyboard," Gist said. Over a two week period, he was challenged by three fundamentalists: one claiming he was going to hell, another arguing over his interpretation of prophecy, and a third who challenged him with Timothy 3:16. To paraphrase, it states that all Scripture is inspired by God and is useful for instruction in righteousness.

Gist says he focuses on the love of God and emphasizes God should not be feared. "My approach is I wasn't asked to be born, God put me in this world," Gist said. "And if God put me in this world, then he's morally responsible for getting me out of it safely."

Along with meditations on the Bible, he explores some of his personal stories of faith. While the book has no uniting theme, the book is a collection of his thoughts, including discussions on both the Old and New Testaments of the Bible. For example Gist has a chapter arguing for the most innocent verse of the Bible as well as the most destructive. Pick up a copy and compare your thoughts to his perspective.
